Festival Update #14

August 8, 2024

Hi everyone!

Some important information...

1. We've fixed the broken link to the Trip Insurance information on the PERFORMERS page. As before, we recommend that everyone purchase theirs ASAP.
2. Having trouble keeping track of all the emails we've sent? There is now an archive of all past Festival Update emails, starting with #5, on the PERFORMERS page. They're listed in chronological order.
Your welcome!
3. We enthusiastically suggest that our performers listen to our recommended YouTube performance of the Requiem as part of their score study. The expressive choices in this performance are very similar to what we will be doing.
 - a. There's a sheet with the YouTube link plus time locations for each movement attached to this email. It's also posted on the PERFORMERS page of our website
 - b. Did you know you can slow down the playback speed on YouTube? Click the settings button (it looks like a little gear).
4. A few people have wondered about when and where to arrive in Salzburg as they begin to make their travel plans.
 - a. What matters most to us is that you arrive at the hotel in time to check in, catch your breath, and catch our bus to our opening banquet location.
 - b. Everyone is expected to attend the banquet. That will be your one time to register and there will be important information given. Also, it'll be a great, fun time when we'll be able to get to know one another.
 - c. The time and location of the opening dinner will be announced as soon we get those details firmed up. It may possibly begin as early as 5:00, so, if you need to make your travel arrangements immediately, plan to check in to the hotel by 4:00.
 - d. Find out more about the hotel, logistics, airport recommendations, view/print helpful map showing the Salzburg train station and our hotel, and more. on the Festival Forum. More info is always being added.

5. Join the Festival Forum!

- a. Simple instructions for joining are easy to find on the festival website, under the PERFORMERS tab.
- b. To protect your privacy, only logged-in members can now view posts on the Forum.
- c. Did you know there is a category for diction and musical questions on the Forum?

That's it for now!
